

I Love You My Special Boy

Shelly Lupton
Huntsville/Ont.
DanShell@suren.net
mother of 7 year old boy Evan with Aspergers(hfa)

My boy, my first born son.

You are so smart, and so polite.

Not very many people notice the difference that you have, only us...

So tender to what others say to you, and so many tears...

Tears tend to fall with each passing day, frustration of such simple things, not being first, or winning a game...

You are so loved with each day that you show us your extraordinary capabilities, with reading , and writing...

2 A's 6 B's and 2 C's on your second term grade 2 report card, so should we be worried?

There are so many other things that you do that are just not typical of a 7 year old boy, but I love them and look forward to them everyday, and never bore of it.

Your so precious to me my Evan and I know that with love and patience you are going to show the world just how capable you are...

I love you my special boy

love mommy